RGI ANNOUNCES NEW APPOINTMENTS IN THE ORGANISATION TO ACCELERATE THE CLOUD TRANSITION OF THE EUROPEAN INSURANCE MARKET

Marco Sebastiani joins the Group as Group Head of Product and Digital Innovation; new responsibilities for Aniello Mautone, already Customer Support & Value Vice President, and Paolo Simoni, already Client Success & Delivery Vice President

Milan, 6th October 2021. RGI has announced today some important updates to its organisational structure which are aimed at further accelerating the transition to a Software-as-a-Service model, while supporting the development process of Cloud-native solutions.

To this end, the Group - the European leader in the digital transformation of Insurers - has communicated the entry into the Management Board of Marco Sebastiani as Group Head of Product and Digital Innovation.

Sebastiani has a PhD in Physics from La Sapienza University, an MBA from the Henley Business School and over 20 years of experience in IBM, in the management of digital transformation projects and development teams. He brings to RGI a broad and strong technical expertise in the Cloud technology, IT services automation and software development methodologies.

In his new role, Sebastiani will be responsible for leading the development and the evolution of the RGI Cloud platform, with the aim of facilitating the transition of the Group to a Software-as-a-Service (SaaS) business model.

«I am pleased to welcome Marco into our team», Cécile André Leruste, RGI Group CEO, has said. «Our technological solutions are strategic to the digital transformation of European Insurers and investing in the development of our own Cloud platform is fundamental to offer our Clients the essential assets for their business in SaaS mode. Marco is the right person to accelerate our shift to these highly innovative models and further strengthen our positioning as a key player in the IT Insurance market».

For what concerns the other changes to the organisational structure, Paolo Simoni, already Client Success & Delivery Vice President of RGI SpA, is now responsible also for the Group Delivery, with the function of managing and coordinating of the project teams for all RGI's clients. Moreover, Aniello Mautone, already Customer Support & Value Vice President, assumes also the role of Deputy CEO in Unimatica-RGI, a leader company in Italy in Digital Signature and Legally Compliant Storage services, of which RGI is the majority shareholder since 2019.

Information about RGI

RGI is one of the main vendors of digital end-to-end solutions for the insurance market, with a comprehensive range of modular services for the management of core insurance processes, including policy administration, claims management, sales and distribution network management in the Life and Claims markets. With a team of about 1200 professionals specialised in IT and insurance and located in 20 offices all over Europe, RGI has digitalised the business of over 130 Insurance Companies and 300 brokers in different geographies. RGI is owned by Corsair, one of the main global investors in the financial services and business sectors. www.rgigroup.com

Follow us:
LinkedIn: Gruppo RGI
Facebook: @RGIGroup

Instagram: rgi_people

Contacts

RGI
Paola Bruna – Group Marketing and Communication
Email pressoffice@rgigroup.com; paola.bruna@rgigroup.com
+39 3387351840